

First Nations story telling through art

Use this symbol sheet to create an artwork that tells a story.

WHAT YOU'LL NEED

- Art paper
- Paint
- Paint brushes

Note: if you don't have paints you could use crayons, marker pens or coloured pencils.

INSTRUCTIONS

- 1 Look at the symbol sheet and read the meanings of each symbol.
- 2 Use the symbols to create your own artwork that tells a story.
- 3 Write out the meaning of your story on the back of your artwork.
Note: if you don't feel like creating an artwork you could write out a story using the symbols instead.

DID YOU KNOW?

First Nations people in Australia use symbols in art to tell stories. These symbols have different meanings and when they are placed in a specific order they can tell a story.

These symbols were provided courtesy of Artlandish Aboriginal Art Gallery.
